Youngsters at Luxembourg's Russian school learned about life in space when they met a real-life Russian cosmonaut at the weekend.

Alexander Misurkin, 36, paid a visit to the Kalinka school in the "Lycée des Arts et Métiers" where he gave an account of his space flight as flight engingeer on the Soyuz TMA -08M from March 29 to September 11, 2013.

Travelling with cosmonaut Pavel Vinogradov and astronaut Christopher Cassidy, Misurkin performed three spacewalks with a total duration of 20 hours and two minutes.
